COUNTY RELIEF
CLIENTS TO GO
OFF 'DOLE' DEC. 1Commissioners Notified
By Director John
A. FergusonORDERS RECEIVED
FROM OHIO OFFICENo Federal Funds Available
After Nov. 30,
County Told

LISBON, Nov. 19. — Columbiana county relief clients will "go off the dole" Dec. 1, it was definitely announced here today at a meeting of the county commissioners.

"The FERA in Ohio must ask you to assume responsibility for employables as well as unemployed cases on the direct relief rolls of the FERA in your county. This is in keeping with the FERA decision that there will be no federal funds available for meeting relief needs of individuals after Nov. 30," reads an official communication handed to the commissioners by John A. Ferguson, county FERA director.

Orders From Columbus
Ferguson received his orders from Dayton H. Frost, assistant FERA director in Ohio, with headquarters at Columbus.

This notification means that clients who have been receiving cash relief twice monthly received their last checks this week, and that effective Dec. 1, no further direct relief will be available. Other than employment on WPA or PWA projects in this county.

Ferguson admitted today that the administration office clerical force will of necessity be reduced Dec. 1, but as to the status of case workers he would make no immediate comment.

Tenship trustees who have been at the commissioners' office this week admit their particular townships have no poor relief funds. County commissioners declined to submit a poor relief bond issue to a vote at the November election following the defeat of a similar proposal at the August primary election.

Exp'ns Action
Further explaining the state FERA action in declining additional relief to this county after Nov. 30, Assistant Director Frost said:

"While no definite assurance at this time can be given you of the extent of the personal assistance this office may be able to make available to you, it is felt that it is possible some such assistance will be available after Nov. 30 if you desire it."

"It will be necessary for this office to continue efficient personnel in Columbiana county to clear up FERA obligations and to cooperate with WPA in its program in your county."

Assistance on the part of this personnel that we maintain in your county may be made available to you without any cost to you.

"Any further assistance however, will be dependent upon the amount of funds that we will have available for liquidating the program after Nov. 30."

"You will be notified in the very near future, as to the extent of service that we will be able to give you and you may rest assured that we will give you our willing cooperation at all times."

COUNTY'S BOND
DEBT IS $387,600Auditor John H. Irwin
Sees Possibility of Decrease

The actual bonded indebtedness of Columbiana county was placed today at $387,600 by County Auditor John H. Irwin. By April 1 it will show a material decrease, the auditor said. This amount is charged against the direct tax duplicate of the county, being a charge against the county.

Since federal and state relief bond issues were authorized by legislation during the last few years, the county has issued $217,950 relief bonds, but these issues now are charged against the duplicate, and paid by the state from utilities revenue tax.

A new county issue of $2,700 appearing on the duplicate has been charged to Perry township for road purposes. Perry township is now reimbursing the county.

The bonded debt of the county inside of limitations is set at $214,100, and the bonded debt outside of limitations is set at $173,500, or a total direct charge against the county of $387,600.

The county also is paying road improvement bonds, against which assessments were charged. Injunction proceedings filed in common pleas court has delayed the collection of these assessments, which have been accumulating over a period of years. Collection of the assessments and applying such collections to the bonded debt would reduce the county bonded debt over one-half, it is reported.

Shop Early
And Mail Early
This Year

Postmaster A. E. Beardmore today sounded the annual call for early Christmas mailing. "Shop now and mail early for early delivery" is the plea of postal authorities. Beardmore said that the postoffice will make every effort to handle the Christmas mails without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume of mail that is expected this season, the cooperation of the public is needed.

The postmaster also requested persons to give special attention to the wrapping and packing of parcels with extra care given to fragile and perishable articles.

Addresses should be marked complete and all packages should be checked to see if the required amount of postage is on the mail, he said. "The air mail will speed up packages, destined for distant points and the use of a special delivery stamp will assure delivery on Christmas day, if mailed at the proper time."

Beardmore also said that "written matter in the nature of personal correspondence cannot be enclosed in parcels. Such letters should be on the outside of the parcel correctly stamped."

"Christmas packages for foreign countries" the postmaster explained, "should be mailed this month to assure delivery by Christmas."

Woman Injured In

ROME, Nov. 19.—An official government spokesman said today that the United States can expect no special consideration from Italy in the former nation's further restrictive measures in pursuit of her neutrality policy.

The Italian spokesman said he could not state what specific measure Italy would take should the Washington government place an embargo on oil or other commodities which has not as yet been restricted from shipment to Italy.

He said, however, that the Italian government would decide what measures to adopt when the occasion arises.

He made it plain that there would be no exception to Italy's "eye-for-an-eye" program.

State Rests Case
In Herbert Hearing

LISBON, Nov. 19.—The state rested yesterday afternoon in the trial of S. T. Herbert following the admission of various exhibits and the defense today began the hearing of witnesses.

Herbert, indicted on various charges, including embezzlement, the particular charge on which the present hearing is based, called nine character witnesses, including W. J. Barlow, former sheriff; Harry Altman, Chief of Police; Hugh McDermott, Fire Chief; Thomas Bryan and Mayor O. E. Greenawald of East Liverpool; E. M. Crosser and Atty. Lodge Ridgely of Lisbon; Charles Couts and Emmet McKenzie of Wellsville.

Counsel for both state and defense this morning took the deposition of G. Y. Travis, indicted on number of counts with Herbert, at Travis' home in East Liverpool. Travis was stricken with a heart attack in the courthouse last week and has been in bed at home since then.

Of Analyzing Modern Marriage

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—The Rev. Ivan H. Hagedorn, pastor of the Bethel Lutheran church, answers his own question of "What's the trouble with men and women in modern marriage?"

The trouble with men, he told a meeting of couples he has married, is:

1. They are impatient.
2. They are lazy.
3. They are skeptical.
4. They never seem to adjust themselves to the new status of woman.
5. They are conceited.
6. They have a mean streak of taking for granted the constancy of their wives.
7. They are unkindful of little things.

CAIRO, Egypt.—Recent riots in Egypt, led by student protesting British domination of Egyptian affairs, further complicate the Mediterranean situation and recall the turbulent history of Egypt's internal struggles for the past 15 years.

Demonstrations staged by the Wafd party, which has been active sponsor of the Egyptian national movement, bear importantly on two issues of vital concern to the British empire.

The flareup of trouble in Egypt may cause England to feel that its position as "policeman" in enforcing sanctions imposed on Italy by the League of Nations is untenable. Observers of the international scene consider it more than likely that No. 10 Downing st. may be less resolute about playing "big brother" to Ethiopia in view of the problems presented by Egypt.

Further Disorder Feared
The seriousness of the situation is apparent when it is noted that 90 per cent of the Egyptian electorate is affiliated with the Wafdist party, which is headed by Mustapha Pasha Nahas, president.

Although official bulletins issued by the British home office have dismissed the Egyptian riots as an incident not warranting military intervention, the riots are generally believed only the surface indication of increasing serious opposition to Britain's intervention in Egyptian affairs.

I was in 1918 that Zaghul Pasha, founder of the Wafd movement, opened an active campaign for Egyptian independence. Two attempts were made by Britain to conciliate the nationalist faction. A constitution was set up in 1923 only to be replaced by another in 1930 which in turn was rejected as unsatisfactory.

Hoare Bitterly Attacked

Unrest in Egypt recently came to a head when Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary, made a speech in which he stated that the time was not yet ripe for conclusion of a treaty between Great Britain and Egypt, and that neither the constitution of 1923 nor the constitution of 1930 was suitable. When the independence day riots broke out, marking the 17th anniversary of the national movement for an independent Egypt, Hoare was the object of bitter verbal attacks by Wafd leaders.

It is precisely a policy of "passive resistance," similar to that inspired in India by Gandhi, may be attempted by the Egyptian Wafd party.

Egyptian nationalist leaders have also declared that they will refuse to support any cabinet which cooperates with Britain.

It is possible that the unrest in Egypt was fired to the point of open violence as a result of the Ethiopian conflict which Britain has feared might incite disturbing elements in the far-reaching empire.

There are some who interpret the Egyptian disorders as the first step of the crumbling of the British empire and its dissolution into separate independent sovereignties.

Signal For Renewed
Fighting(By Associated Press)
Application of sanctions against Italy by 51 nations of the world in accordance with the League of Nations action was the signal for an Italian aerial attack on the Ethiopian forces on the northern front which the fliers said resulted in 2,000 deaths among the native warriors.

A squadron of 20 airplanes, led by Il Duce's son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, engaged in a pitched battle with the army of Haile Selassie just south of Makale.

Bring Down Ciano's Plane
The Ethiopians turned their anti-aircraft fire on the machine-gun and bomb attack from overhead and succeeded in bringing down the plane of Ciano, who, however, escaped unhurt.

Before landing his disabled airplane, Ciano directed a double attack which, Italian authorities said, led to the dispersal of 15,000 Ethiopian forces and gave the Fascist troops one of the most important victories of the conflict.

Mussolini's two sons, Bruno and Vittorio, took part in the attack.

Emperor Haile Selassie, preparing to join his subjects at the front, expressed doubts as to the efficacy of the sanctions. The ruler of the African empire said that, while grateful for the imposition of the restrictions by the 51 nations, he felt that hostilities never would have begun if such measures were of a force to prevent war.

Emperor Optimistic
The emperor was more optimistic about the position of the Ethiopian armies in the field, insisting Ethiopia has not yet met defeat and that they have not yet pitted their full strength against the invaders.

Official announcement of the war's progress made in Rome reported an advance of an Eritrean corps in the Tembien region. It continued a considerable advance of Sunday and occupied several new towns.

National Grange
Asks Repudiation
Of Tariff Treaty(By Associated Press)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 19.—A plain spoken demand for repudiation of the new trade treaty with Canada headed the list of 1936 policies of the national Grange today.

The Grange unanimously adopted a report of its legislative committee warning the compact would prove "injurious rather than beneficial" and announced a campaign for repeal of the reciprocal tariff act at the next congress and the various trade treaties are annulled.

Debate on other policies got under way with three days remaining on the 29th annual convention.

Louis J. Taber of Columbus, O., was re-elected national master for the seventh consecutive time yesterday. The 1936 convention was awarded to Ohio. The executive committee will select the city.

Fifi Is Fired
By Earl Carroll
After Stage Row

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 19.—Earl Carroll's touring Vanities was a hotbed of charges and counter charges of fist fights and deferred salary payments today as Carroll himself gave notice to Fifi D'Orsay, peit actress lead, for "not doing the show much good."

Leibert had the show, just 11 days on tour here last night, by cracking onto the stage and demanding the audience that it request the show be stopped.

Carroll, who had come here by plane to straighten out matters, walked on the stage flanked by local policemen listened to Leibert's charges of non-payment of salaries and of fights in Raleigh when he and Miss D'Orsay allegedly were struck by J. M. McKelvie, company manager, then ordered the show to go on.

The show went on—with the audience wondering what it all was about.

Today Carroll said Leibert had been discharged following last night's performance. That Miss D'Orsay, former movie actress, would leave the show in two weeks because she is too high-salaried an actress and because she isn't doing the show much good."

Leibert announced a "campaign to expose Earl Carroll" who declared, along with others of the cast that salaries were due. Leibert said the fight in Raleigh occurred in a Pullman car following a general argument; that McKelvie, yanked Paul McCullough, one of the comedy leads, from his berth; struck Fifi when she remonstrated; then "popped" Leibert.

Strengthening of State Welfare
Division

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—The Ohio government survey recommended today that the charities division of the state welfare department be reorganized, strengthened in personnel and given an additional $40,000 annually.

The proposed budget increase would raise the division's appropriation to $147,000. New services would include aid for the aged, aid for the blind, mothers' pensions, and "any other form of relief in which the state may find it necessary to participate."

A new title, "The Division of Public Assistance," was suggested as more appropriate in the event the enlarged functions were approved. The charities division now handles services for crippled children, child welfare for the homeless, inspection of welfare institutions and boarding homes.

The superintendent of the division should be under civil service, the survey said.

The court announced it would name another lawyer and continue the trial.

203 Is Board's
Final Tally

Paul (Judy) Myers, Republican, will serve the Third ward as councilman when the new administration takes office next January.

At the election Nov. 5, Myers was counted out of the race by one vote, William Lajeunesse, Democrat, apparently being the winner, 210 to 209.

A re-count, requested by Myers, was taken by the county election board at Lisbon last night. The result shows Myers the winner by a margin of seven votes, or 210 to 203.

Errors in Both Precincts
Mistakes in counting the votes were found in both Precinct A and B. Lajeunesse lost votes in both precincts, while Myers lost in A but gained in B.

In Precinct A Lajeunesse dropped from 113 to 107 and in B from 97 to 94. Myers dropped from 68 to 67 in Precinct A but jumped from 141 to 143 in Precinct B. Thus Lajeunesse lost a total of seven votes and Myers picked up a net of one.

Here is a comparison of the original count of the precinct boards and the recount by the county board of elections at the court house last night:

	1st Count	2nd Count	3rd Count	4th Count	5th Count	6th Count	7th Count	8th Count	9th Count	10th Count
Myers	68	67	141	143	209	210
Lajeunesse	113	107	97	94	210	203

123 Fall to Vote
The county board discovered a total of 123 ballots, 56 in Precinct A and 67 in Precinct B, on which votes had been registered for ward councilman. The original report of the precinct boards showed a total of 117 ballots, 49 in Precinct A and 68 in Precinct B.

The two candidates and Louie Caplan, city solicitor and president of the Young Republican club, witnessed the recount at Lisbon last night.

With this change in the Third ward, the Republicans will have seven of the eight councilmen, including the president of council, George McArthur, councilman-at-large, is the only Democrat to be included in the new city administration.

Frank Strahm Found
Dead Near Home

Frank Marion Strahm, 75, of 774 North Lisbon ave., ended his life by shooting himself Monday afternoon. Coroner W. C. Map's ruled it a case of suicide.

Mr. Strahm, a farmer, had lived in Salem and vicinity all his life. He was born at Neward.

He had been without work for the last four years and had been residing with a niece, Lincoln Bennett, 774 North Lisbon ave., for the past year. His wife, Margaret, died eight years ago.

Police said Strahm took his life in the rear of the Bennett property by firing one shot from a 38 caliber old type revolver. The bullet entered the roof of his mouth. Found by neighbors who heard the shot, Mr. Strahm was taken to Salem City hospital where he died at 4 p. m., an hour and ten minutes after the shooting.

In addition to his niece he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ora Wilkinson of Gardfield, one son, John, of Neward, and a brother, Jesse. Seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren are also living.

The funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Neward Methodist church in charge of Rev. Kirkbride of Mineral Ridge. Burial will be in Woodsdale cemetery, east of Winona. Friends may call at the Stark Memorial Wednesday evening.

KIND WORDS

President Roosevelt's kind words about Senator Norris should warm that gentleman's heart. The senator has heard many kind words lately.

Recently, he announced his intention to retire from politics at the end of his term next year. He was, he said, an old man who had earned a rest.

The announcement naturally attracted attention in all parts of the country. Sen. Norris is one of the few senators of national importance. The incident was made an occasion for many tributes to the senator's qualifications.

Yet, in a few days Sen. Norris denied he had announced his retirement at all. Another one of those mistakes which always are annoying politicians had been made. He had been misquoted.

Yet, it was on the misquotation that President Roosevelt based his generous tribute, apparently. The President said, "If I were a citizen of the state of Nebraska, regardless of what party I belonged to, I would not allow George Norris to retire from the United States senate whether he wanted to or not, for the very good reason that I feel he is necessary in the senate, not only to the people of Nebraska but to those of the United States for as long as he lives."

What a pity that Sen. Norris, by his own admission, hasn't any intention of retiring. It would be a real honor to be coaxed to keep on working by the President, himself.

IT'S WAR

Certain dominant facts clamor for attention at the outset of Europe's experiment with economic sanctions as a means of preventing Italy from prosecuting its invasion of Ethiopia.

Sanctions do not create a sense of guilt in Italy. Italians, believing themselves to be persecuted by nations fortunate enough to have seized territory before the League of Nations existed, are resentful and angry. They will retaliate, with economic sanctions of their own first and with military force later, if necessary.

Economic sanctions, if they are successful, will do Italy irreparable damage, thereby increasing the economic motive of war by destroying outlets for Italian commodities and products. Sanctions will be costly, furthermore, to many of the nations which are pledged to apply them against Italy.

The act of strangling a nation into submission is as truly an act of war as wartime blockade. The present situation in Europe may be called war fought with economic weapons. Only the most optimistic observers believe the ultimate result will be anything but war fought with armies. It seems probable the League of Nations, whose purpose is to make war impossible, is making war inevitable.

Italy must stand or fall on the gamble it has taken. It cannot surrender to the League of Nations with honor. It cannot defy the League with safety. At the moment, it seems possible the League of Nations, established to secure peace, will be remembered by historians for devising a new method of increasing the factors of war.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The ancient camaraderie that existed back stage between players and scene shifters and resulted in a closing night jollification by all connected with the theater is but a memory. When a show closes today there is scarcely a goodbye.

The see-saw between unions and producers has produced this tension. Everybody carries a chip on the shoulder and usually there is a storm brewing. Richard Mansfield, testiest of the stars, had a sentimental regard for those who made up the house staff, front and back.

He rarely spoke to a fellow player save through lines of the play. But when his runs ended he invariably saw to it that each member of the company and all connected with the house received a gold piece. Maude Adams also presented each with a gift in person.

A minor member of Mansfield's company was once invalided to a hospital for 12 weeks. Mansfield paid the expenses. One night after his return to duty, the actor sought Mansfield to thank him. He glared and shouted: "I don't know what you're talking about." And stamped away.

On his vast estate near New Bedford, Mass., Col. E. H. R. Green, son of the famous Hetty, has a Boston terror that is the apple of his eye. When feminine visitors show the pet special attention he disappears without command and returns with a packet in his mouth to drop at their feet. The packet contains a vanity case with the Boston's head done in cloisonne.

Cole Porter seems to have edged Noel Coward completely out of the spot as the reigning ultra-sophisticate. While he has none of the conversational ascertainties of the Englishman, he has been able to say it so expressively with song he has become almost a cult. Smart party throwers angle for him. South honors are not particularly new to Porter. The South Bend, Ind., lad with the Buddha gaze was something of a white-haired boy in London's Mayfair before attaining his New York celebrity. Also along the French Riviera.

Ambitious litterateurs out-country will be heartened by the sudden writing recognition for James Street, a young New York reporter. His formative days were spent jumping puddles and loafing on a lard can in front of a Mississippi cross-roads store. He came to New York less than two years ago and a few weeks ago sold at first effort the only book he ever tried to write. A publishing house took it on strength of the first six chapters.

Street's recognition is a publishing phenomenon rare but not without precedent. As I recall, a worthy predecessor of the same name, Julian Street, received a check for his first effort. Sinclair Lewis sold his first story with ease. Vina Delmar, too. And Edward Dean Sullivan, Octavius Roy Cohen, Edison Marshall and Edgar Wallace.

O. yes, one of the long established and popular book critics, Harry Hansen, as though answering the accumulative jeer of an army of authors, "If you know so much about books, why don't you write one yourself?" did that very thing recently. A reviewer writing a book or a dramatic critic writing a play is at least a gesture in bad. Hansen's fellow reviewers received his book kindly but with no excess of enthusiasm. One thing upon which all agreed heartily: He is still a first rate critic.

It's one of those little gas-house candy stores where the doorbell goes ping. Shelves with a scatter of jarred candy, assortments of highly colored penny drinks, thumbled copies of out-dated detective magazines. From the gloomy rear appeared a wizened fellow with half steel spectacles and a shoulder shawl. I stopped in to use his telephone. "A telephone?" he rasped in high squeak. "What do I want with a telephone?" And he turned back into his cloister with a door slam. 1935!

HEALTH

New York City

Croup and Whooping Cough
Cold weather usually ushers in many running noses and colds for the young children, particularly between the ages of two and six years. Children of this age are more or less susceptible to the slightest variations in temperature. They are greatly influenced in health by climatic changes.

Of all the infections of the upper air passages, few are more alarming and really distressing than croup and whooping cough. It is not unusual to have a group confused with whooping cough. Indeed these two conditions are considerably alike.

Croup is a catarrhal inflammation of the larynx, the windpipe. Like whooping cough, it comes on suddenly, usually attacking children from two to five years old. Some children seem extremely susceptible to croup while others never have it.

What to Do
The attack may come on during the night. In that event the child is awakened from sleep by a barking cough. This becomes more and more annoying and interferes with breathing. In severe cases the child actually appears to be choking.

Try not to become excited, because your anxiety upsets the child and this promotes further spasms, with increasing difficulty in breathing. The poor youngster needs your help and encouragement.

In a severe case it is best to place the child in a hot bath. Make sure it is not too hot, testing the temperature by putting your elbow in the water. An older child may be given a hot footbath to which a teaspoon of mustard has been added.

Croup differs from whooping cough in that the attack is not prolonged. Few cases of croup last for more than a day or two, while whooping cough may last for several weeks. In fact, some cases persist for months.

Like croup, whooping cough is an annoying disorder, with swelling and irritation of the membrane lining the throat and windpipe. The symptoms of whooping cough are due to an infection by a specific germ. Following the inflammation, mucus accumulates and interferes with normal breathing.

Highly Contagious
The most characteristic symptom of this infection is the regular repetition of violent spasms of coughing. The young sufferer has great difficulty in breathing; in this respect it is similar to croup. But in whooping cough a violent coughing spell winds up with the "whoop" and great difficulty in resuming normal breathing. With the end of his peculiar spasm the symptoms ease up and until the next whoop there may be little trouble.

Whooping cough is highly contagious, easily spread from one child to another. Simple croup is not spread. But children who easily pick up infections and colds should not be brought in contact with a child who has croup or any infection of the upper air passages.

Children afflicted with either croup or whooping cough should be kept from school and away from other children until entirely recovered. Neglect of these disorders leads to a weakening of the air passages, with increased susceptibility to colds and other infections.

Answers to Health Queries

M. M. Q.—What would cause brown spots which peel when scratched, but which are otherwise of little discomfort? These spots do not itch or cause any pain. They are located below the breast. Could this condition be due to shingles?
A.—The trouble in question may be due to "liver spots." Shingles would cause it hinging and general discomfort. Watch your diet and elimination. Keep the system clear. For further particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Anxious Mother, Q.—My daughter is nearly 14 years and studies terribly. What can I do to overcome the habit?
A.—This is usually due to nervousness. For full particulars restate your question and send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

ONE STEP TO RELIEF OF CONSTIPATION
A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives.

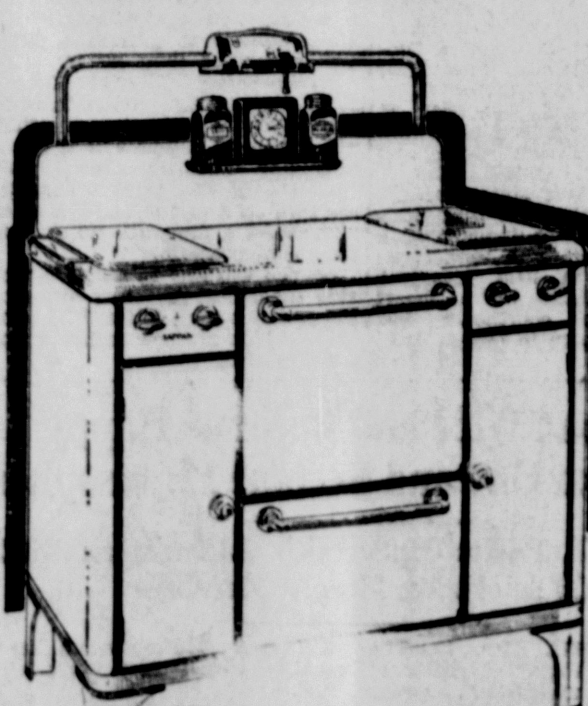

If you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara — both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

"LOVE DENIED"

by LOUISE LONG and ETHEL DOHERTY

CHAPTER XXXV

He spent nearly an hour in contemplation of the canvas, resenting the detail, recalling the samand, finally giving Stuart a minute's praise. Then she awoke the fact that Kent was long over. She glanced at her watch, and a little, and laughed aloud at the thought that his protegee was keeping him. The sound of that familiar laugh reached Stuart Pennington outside, as he was crossing the floor toward the main gallery, halted, thinking his ears must be tricked him, and then went on toward the door.

Stuart recognized that tall, love-form as Sharlene stood, back and looking up at his picture. "What alone! What had made laugh?" The subject of the picture was hardly mirth-provoking. A chord of the past had been touched to evoke that gray smile? He entered the gallery so quietly that she was not aware of it. He came down hesitantly, thinking that he might see the expression on her face and not be. How still she was, how in. Then he heard rapid steps approaching outside and he turned to the door, prepared to study a picture—an enormous canvas painted to Stuart at such close range.

Miss Damerell came in hastily and frowning with irritation because of the apology he was to have to make to his wife. He did not turn and he glanced the other occupant of the room was also turned away, apparently absorbed in a picture. He turned instantly that burnished head. Was this some kind of mirage? Before he had time to make up his mind Sharlene stood at her watch casually, and turned.

"There you are, Kent!" she said, and went toward him. "Did you come in?" Kent said that she wasn't acting. She was quite evidently of other man standing in the left end of the room. The "pleased him."

"Sweetheart," he said with unusual warmth. "I'm so sorry to that's all right, dear," she said him smilingly, responding to a flower to sunshine. "I never when you're at the end of the gag!"

Listen to that movie lingo," he thrust to blue, etched darkly against the evening sky with the effect of an artfully lighted back drop in a theater.

He asked: "Did it make you jealous, Sharlene?"

She turned her lovely eyes on him and smiled. "Why, dearest, dearest! Never! I couldn't be!"

"I almost wish you were," he said disinterestedly.

"Jealous of Julie? Don't be silly. She couldn't really interest you—any more than she could Stuart!"

"What!" He narrowly averted a collision. "What do you mean—Julie and Pennington?"

"Oh, that's ancient history!" Sharlene laughed. "Julie modeled for Stuart years ago when she was first in the movies."

"Model, H'm. I see," Kent said nothing more, but he was thinking savagely. By gad! Could it be?

He—the dashing Damerell—seemed to be acquiring a habit of playing second fiddle to Stuart Pennington!

Julie's new cottage at Malibu Beach was full of hangers-on that Saturday afternoon. They arrived in swarms to wear her bathing suits, to use her towels, drink her gin and consume whatever food they could lay hands on. They had possessed the house every weekend since it was finished. Miss Gray, her companion and social mentor, was powerless to control the invasion because Julie herself was so pleased to have them there. La De Vore craved popularity and did not quibble at the price.

On the square of sand allotted to her cottage at the edge of the sea the bathers lay under umbrellas, as thick as a herd of wet seals, squealing and flipping about in an absurdly seashell manner. They went into the ocean at intervals, but spent most of the time sipping long cold drinks and smoking endless cigarettes.

As Miss Gray made her way shrinkingly among the recumbent forms, of whom she so heartily disapproved, Julie rose from the mass and pulled a languid, sunburned youth into a game of beach ball. (She had to wage grim warfare on the flesh, if not the devil, to keep her film form.) Miss Gray came toward Julie, dodging the ball unsuccessfully. It bounced on the top of her head and knocked off her glasses, which did not add to the sweetness of her temper.

"Julie!" she said sharply, "Mr. Damerell has come—"

"What? Out here?"

"I had him wait in the living room because I didn't think you'd want to see him in this mess!" She looked haughtily about her.

"Listen, you hold him there till I get rid of the bunch." She ran to her pals. "Kids, you gotta scam."

A groan went up. "Aw, Julie have a heart!"

"I mean it! Beat it! I've got an important caller—and I've got to be dignified. Hurry up!"

"You go on an' be dignified an' leave us be!" all but yawned the languid youth, stretching out again under an umbrella.

"Jose! No more drinks!" Julie called to the Filipino boy who was bringing out a tray. "You take up all the glasses—"

"Hey!" Each guest reached hastily for his glass and drained the dregs.

"Now you kids go crash some other party down the beach," said Julie firmly, "and don't go home with my bathing suits!"

Convinced at last that the star meant it, they gathered themselves

KNOWING

Those We Serve and Their Needs

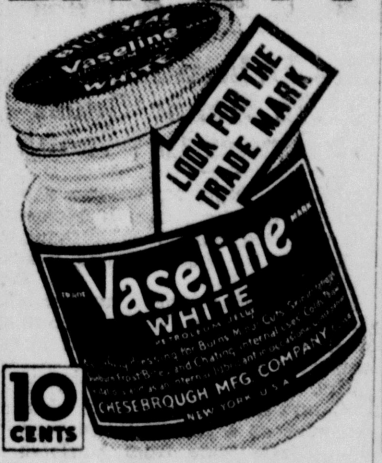

When one of our patrons speaks of getting good service from this bank, what does he mean?

He means that our officers did not merely give him perfunctory attention. They took the time and the pains necessary to give him as nearly as possible the type of banking co-operation his needs of the moment called for.

That sounds simple enough. It is simple. But we could not do our best if we did not feel that we are daily performing a really helpful service for those who come to this bank.

A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brishane

THE TEXT of trade agreement between the United States and Canada is "released." Other columns of this newspaper will tell you about it.

The President and Secretary Hull have approved, but it cannot become law until Canada's Parliament consents. Under "extraordinary powers" given to President Roosevelt by Congress no approval by our legislators is necessary.

BUSINESS MEN will read this carefully. Republicans here they will find in it something that will frighten the American farmer back into the Republican fold in spite of AAA.

Senator Borah and Col. Frank Knox, discussed as Republican candidates for President, recall a reciprocity act passed in the Taft administration that cost Republicans their strength in the West.

YESTERDAY, at midnight, The League's "sanctions" have taken effect, intended as Mussolini's, "to isolate and suffocate Italy."

Since earliest Roman days, expansion has been the habit of peoples inhabiting the Italian peninsula, and that expansion has benefited the world. The people of Rome started France and England from barbarism on the road to civilization.

FIFTY NATIONS are united in the effort to starve and frighten Italy. The pretext, quite hypocritical is a desire to preserve the "liberties" of barbarous tribes in Ethiopia, that have never known liberty except freedom to murder and sell each other to Arab slave dealers.

League of Nations hypocrisy would be less unpleasant if the "two nations" that really are the "League," England and France, had not each of them done exactly what they forbid Italy to do, and done it in England's case, multiplied by 100.

IT WILL TAKE a good deal of starving and "suffocating" to make Italy submit. The married women of Italy, not a few, but more than 90 per cent of them, will send their "old wedding rings, most precious of their possessions next to their children, to be changed by Mussolini into gold coin for the war. Italian wives receiving in exchange an iron wedding ring inscribed: "The answer of Italian womanhood to Geneva."

An Italian banker estimates that 10,000,000 Italian wedding rings will weigh about 55 tons. Worth in gold $12,000,000.

Ethiopia's "war," not more than 40 days old, has not yet seen any real battle, only rearing by Ethiopians, "luring on the Italians," according to Haile Selassie.

Now Ethiopia king is expected to start a real fight with nearly 1,000,000 Ethiopian warriors, he himself lead.

Perhaps the League of Nations has indicated to Haile Selassie that it is about time for him to start something.

W. W. CHAPLIN, a good newspaperman, describes Emperor Haile Selassie's son-in-law, Gussa, who joined the Italians.

He was surrounded by men with pistols and machine guns, dressed "resplendent in a scarlet and brown uniform, which he designed, offset by gold and crimson embroidery."

Two chamberlains walked beside him "to do his smiling and bowing when the populace groveled at his feet." Gussa is now ruler of the great T're province of Ethiopia which hereafter will remain probably Italian.

GUSSA, adopting "civilized" ways, bought "calling cards" and hands one proudly to each visitor.

He is a fearless person. Gussa has machine guns and gunmen around him only because his father-in-law, Haile Selassie, has offered a large reward for his person, delivered "in any condition" alive, dead or half alive.

worth of government bonds, in figures $15,000,000,000.

We'll might a most important official of the government say:

"Inflation? We have it now, biggest ever seen, frozen in the banks; wait until it breaks loose."

Fifteen thousand million dollars worth of "inflation bonds" are worth exactly the paper they are written on, plus the government's promise to pay in greenbacks, no old. They are worth exactly as much as greenbacks, and have exactly the same security back of them. The government promise.

If the government had printed new money, saving the interest on fifteen thousand millions of bonds.

Tonight and tomorrow will provide the final opportunities for those wishing to see "Mutiny on the Bounty." This is a sea drama as it actually took place 150 years ago. A true chapter from maritime history.

"Mutiny on the Bounty" has been faithfully produced from the book by Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall, who wrote a sensational account of the mutiny of the British vessel H. M. S. Boun y in 1787.

The story tells of the ship sailing for the South Seas to transport breadfruit. Her crew is a motley one pressed into service. Her skipper is tyrannical Captain Bligh, who knows only one law, the merciless law of the sea. Charles L. ugh on makes Captain Bligh a despicable man.

Christian, the Master's first mate, is portrayed by Clark Gable, and the leader of the mutineers could not have been a better choice. Franchot Tone is a sailor, on his first assignment, who has a great admiration for Christian.

The true story of the Bounty is told, a crew living on a fant and rotten rations and a snarling Captain raging incessantly at his embittered men; floggings, death and

RAY ZEH NEARS HIGHEST SCORE MARK EVER SET

Reserve Back Needs But 3 Points To Tie Record

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Ray Zeh, Western Reserve's burly fullback, had one foot inside the portal of the hall of football fame today. The Cleveland youth, the nation's eighth scorer with 166 points in eight games, needs only three to tie the highest mark ever made by an Ohio mauler. Back in 1922 Otto Volkov of Heidelberg scored 162 points, and the following year Ray Novotny of Ashland duplicated that feat. A year ago John Turley of Ohio Wesleyan copied the scoring laurels with 92 points.

Lands at Century Mark
Zeh was in the game against Denison Saturday for only a few minutes, but slashed through the Deacons for two touchdowns and then added one extra point to land on the century mark.

Lavon Rex of Defiance, a brand new leader, hopped into second place in the scoring column with 63 points. He counted two touchdowns and an extra point Saturday against Detroit Tech to hog from eighth to second place.

"Roaring John" Koprowski of Xavier was held scoreless Friday as the Musketeers defeated St. Louis, and dropped to third place with 61 points. "Jumping Joe" Williams of Ohio State failed to score for the first time this year as the Bucks nosed out Illinois and his 60 points were just good enough for a fourth-place tie with Ray Nolting, who scored Cincinnati's lone touchdown against Ohio University, and Noble of Baldwin-Wallace, who scored two touchdowns against Findlay.

Yellow Jackets Represented
The Baldwin-Wallace team, the state's high-scoring combination and leader of the Ohio conference, is well represented among the individual leaders. Noble of the Yellow Jackets has 60 points, Schoen 56, and Adams and Goldsmith 54 each.

Three dozen Ohio gridders have scored 25 or more points during the campaign, while about 250 have at least one mark to their credit. Zeh's 37-point lead seems enough to clinch the scoring honors, but Rex has finished his play for the year and probably will be nosed out of the runner-up berth. Zeh has two more games, against Oberlin and Case, while Koprowski has one game, Williams one and Noble two.

15 GAMES FACE GOSHEN CAGERS

Settle Down to Serious Workouts This Week

DAMASCUS, Nov. 19.—After scoring a victory in its opening game against the Alumni last Friday, the Goshen Township High school boys basketball team settled down to serious workouts this week in order to shape themselves for the 15 opponents they will play during the rest of the season.

Five lettersmen form the foundation for this year's Goshen team. They are: Beitler, Mercer, Burton, Schwartzhoff and Hoffman.

Capable Reserves
Coach Clayton Leyda will probably use these men in most of the coming games although he has two capable reserves in Evans and Fryfogel which he can call on at any time.

For the girls' cage team coached by E. L. Wagstaff five veterans from last year are found among the 14 lassies who reported for practice last week. These veterans are: Burton, Schwartzhoff, Naylor, Williams and Carpenter.

Both boys and girls team will tackle with Berlin Center this week. The schedule for the remainder of the season is as follows:
Nov. 22—Berlin Center (There).
Nov. 27—Beloit (There).
Dec. 6—Poland (There).
Dec. 13—Sebring (Here).
Dec. 14—North Lima (Here).
Dec. 20—Sebring (There).
Jan. 10—Fairfield (Here).
Jan. 11—Atwater (Here).
Jan. 17—Beloit (Here).
Jan. 21—Fairfield (There).
Jan. 21—Owen.
Feb. 31—Milton (There).

Prospects For Good Year at Columbiana

COLUMBIANA, Nov. 19.—Prospects for a winning basketball team this year at Columbiana High school appear favorable as Coach Jimmy Wind sent his cagers through the first workouts this week.

Leading contenders for varsity positions this year are: Fisher, Manchester, Unger, Fullerton, G. Leshner, Logan, Burkle, Eckert, Rendshaw and Detwiler. All of these boys had experience on either the reserve or varsity team last year.

Parsons High In Billiard Tourney

ROY PARSONS turned in the high score of the "Solitaire" pocket billiard tournament which got under way at the Harris Billiard parlor yesterday. Parsons' score was 56. Second high score yesterday was made by F. Hall who had a ball total of 45.

The tournament will continue until Nov. 30 with prizes offered daily for the high score.

Evans Quits As Manager Of Indians

Resigned Yesterday After Declining Salary Decrease

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 19.—Alva Bradley, wealthy real estate operator, prepared today to assume more active direction of the Cleveland Indians baseball club, assisted by Cyril C. Slapnicka, chief of the Indians' scouting staff for 14 years.

While Billy Evans, general manager who resigned yesterday after declining to accept a salary cut, said he had no offers from other clubs at present, baseball followers believed he would not be long without a job.

Will Attend Meeting
Evans planned to go to Dayton today for the minor league meeting. Slapnicka, who was given the title of assistant to President Bradley, will be there also.

Evans, who came to the Indians after 22 years as an American league umpire, and who earned a reputation for active buying and trading of players, said: "I have no plans, but Lady Luck has been good to me for 52 years and I don't think she's going to desert me now."

He resigned after rejecting a contract for a lower salary than the $12,500 he earned last year. For three years before the end of the 1933 season he had been paid $30,000 a year.

Result of Controversy
Some baseball observers traced the resignation to a controversy over the suspension of Third Base- man Willie Kamm last summer. Evans tried to persuade Manager Walter Johnson from taking this step.

Bradley told Evans recently the club had suffered heavy losses between gate receipts and disbursements and said the directors felt they no longer could pay Evans a large salary.

Evans contended the value of the team through the building up of its personnel had been greatly increased.

Bradley abolished the post of general manager yesterday in making Slapnicka his assistant. Slapnicka, former minor league pitcher, came to the Cleveland scouting staff in 1923. He is 43 and lives in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Football Campaign Draws To Close With Only a Few Teams Unbeaten and Untied

Crushing Defeats Suffered by North Carolina, Marquette and Syracuse Reduce The Front Rank

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The mad football campaign draws rapidly to a close with only a "baker's dozen" teams still unbeaten and untied.

The crushing defeats suffered last week by North Carolina, Marquette and Syracuse reduced the field of front-rank contenders for the seven-team national championship to seven: Princeton, Dartmouth, and New York University in the east; Minnesota in the middle west; Southern Methodist and Texas Christian in the southwest, and California in the far west.

Of these, only Minnesota, aiming at its third successive undefeated campaign, appears certain of winding up with a perfect record. The Gophers close out their season against Wisconsin's Badgers at Minneapolis Saturday. All others have major hurdles yet to clear.

By sections, the championship situation seems to line-up about as follows:

East
Princeton and Dartmouth, playing in Palmer stadium in Princeton Saturday, probably will decide the eastern championship. Dartmouth's snowed under Cornell 48 last week, while Princeton's substitutes were shipping Lehigh, 27-0. N. Y. U., third of the section's undefeated and untied eleven, swamped Rutgers, 48-0, and now will rest until its objective game with Fordham Thanksgiving day.

From the standpoint of tradition, nothing this week will compare with the clash of Harvard and Yale at Cambridge, Mass., tied 6-6 by Notre Dame in a "thrilling finish" before 80,000 spectators in the Yale stadium on Saturday, will tune up for the Navy game at Philadelphia Nov. 30, in a "breather" Saturday against Vermont.

Navy Is Idle
Navy, easy victor over Columbia, 28-7, will be idle. Temple's Owls, who stopped Marquette's winning streak 26-6, will face Villanova, while Colgate, hitting its stride with

HOPPE TO FACE COCHRANE TODAY

Billiard Artists Vie For Three-Cushion Title

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Willie Hoppe of New York, for nearly two generations idol of American billiard fans, meets Weiker Cochrane of San Francisco, tonight for the world's three cushion championship.

The other stars of the game, Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., the retiring champion, and Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago, ten times winner of the crown, fell by the wayside.

Cochrane Is Present King
Cochrane, present king of the 18.2 ball line players, held the three cushion title before, while Hoppe, the one time boy wizard, now 48, has won about everything in billiards, except the three-cushion title. He now holds the 18.1 ball line crown.

Hoppe and Cochrane will go into the match with seven victories and one defeat each. Hoppe's only loss was to Allen Hall of St. Louis. Cochrane was beaten last night by Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago. That game was the seventh consecutive victory for the tall, lanky Thurnblad.

Master In Final Games
A former draftsman Thurnblad became the master shot maker in the final games of the tournament. In his first two games, the tall bludge Chicagoan lost to Hoppe and then to Augie Kieckhefer.

Then Thurnblad, playing with calmness and deliberation, settled down to the most consistent game of them all to go into the third place. Thurnblad will play the place honors.

Four players were contesting on a round robin schedule for fourth place. They are Johnny Layton, Hall, Jay Bozeman of Vallejo, Calif., and Kinsey Matsuyama, Tokyo, Japan.

Rose Bowl Team In West Is Undecided

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 19.—While the annual California-Stanford grid classic at Pa'o Alto Saturday in all probability will decide which team represents the west in the Rose Bowl game official announcement will not come until Nov. 29.

This was the statement today from the office of Prof. Hugh C. Willett, chairman of the Pacific Coast conference.

Asked whether Southern Methodist or Texas Christian, two undefeated teams in the Southwest conference were eligible because of their location, Professor Willett said:

"Certainly Southern Methodist or any other team in the southwest conference could be selected if the conference awarded the Rose Bowl right by the Pacific Coast conference so decided."

BASEBALL MEN BEGIN PARLEY

Around 800 Notables Expected In Dayton Today

DAYTON, Nov. 19.—With major league gossip sounding an overtime, baseball notables were here today for the 34th annual meeting of minor league leagues, opening off today tomorrow.

Around 400 were in town this morning; as many more were expected by tonight.

The major league contingent was led by Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals and Frankie Frisch, manager of the former world champions. Here, also, were Casey Stengel of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Charlie Dressen, with a new one-year contract to manage the Cincinnati Reds in his pocket.

Minor league officials here included Charles Knapp of the International league, who called a meeting of his group today; Don Hill, head of the Piedmont circuit, who likewise summoned executives for a preliminary session, and Elmer Dalley, of the Three-eve league.

C. C. Slapnicka, named yesterday by President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians as his assistant, replacing "Billy" Evans, was due today.

Interest In Bowling At Highest Peak In Years

Largely through the efforts of Ed Maley, president of the City Bowling league, and Joe Reese, in charge of the Masonic alleys, interest in bowling has reached a higher pitch in Salem this season than for 25 or 30 years.

More than 300 bowlers are using the Masonic alleys in regularly scheduled games, and even more would take a crack at the maples if additional alleys, or possibly more nights in a week, were available.

INJURIES HIT OHIO U. TEAM

Despite Loss of 2 Players Bobcats Are Confident Of Win

Injuries to two players hampered the Ohio university Bobcats today as they tore into practice for the Ohio Wesleyan game Saturday.

Despite the possible loss of two players, the Bobcats had confidence they could whip Wesleyan, finishing the season undefeated and untied, and in possession of the Buckeye conference crown.

Wittenberg, preparing for the clash with Dayton, also had two injured men. Boris Bambaloff of Lima, end, who was injured in the Heidelberg game, was a doubtful starter. Boyd Abrams of Wadsworth, halfback, also was on the injured list.

Tie for Trophy
At the Dayton campus all eyes were admiring a trophy temporarily in possession of the school as a result of the 6 to 6 tie with Miami Tuesday. After six months, however, the trophy goes to Miami, because of the tie.

The Akron university Zippers, upset by Muskingum last week, were planning to give a dose of the same medicine to Mount Union. The Mounts, undefeated so far but with a tie marring their record, defeated Muskingum earlier this season.

The Ohio Northern Polar Bears had a day of rest yesterday but Coach Lamb planned to bear down in practice today. Ohio Northern plays Denison this week.

Not only did John Carpenter claim the $15 prize for the first 250 mark of the season, but to date he holds high individual score with his 279. About a week later Charles West registered 262 for second honors to date.

Joe Reese really was the first to reach the 250 mark this season, but he refused to claim the prize because he is manager of the alleys. His 255 was rolled some three weeks ago.

League games are played every night but Sunday and usually there is a large gallery of spectators.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Because he was a marked man, Gene Venzke was defeated in the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic association's cross-country run—the title that escaped Pennsylvania's great miler for the third and last time yesterday.

When John Edward Bechtold came out of the Van Cortlandt park woods to outstrip the one-time king of the indoor milers and pace Michigan State to its third straight team title, it was all a part of the mid-westerners' well-laid plans. They had marked Gene as the man to beat. Although it took as game a finish as ever seen on a cross-country course, they succeeded with Bechtold finishing 20 yards in front of the Quaker star.

Buckeyes To Let Go Saturday

Hope to Match 40-0 Score Minnesota Made On Michigan

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Comparative scores don't decide football championships, but it is more than likely that Ohio State will let go at Michigan with all its power Saturday in an effort to match or better Minnesota's 40 to 0 margin over the Wolverines.

Comparative Scores Enter
Unless Michigan and Wisconsin come up with totally unexpected victories over Ohio State and Minnesota in the final round of Big Ten battles Saturday, Gophers and Buckeyes will finish in a dead heat for the title. This situation coming to pass, comparative scores undoubtedly will be dragged into post-season discussions over the relative merits of Minnesota and Ohio State football for 1935.

They have two common opponents for the year, Northwestern and Michigan and so far, the Buckeyes have a little the better of it. Ohio State, catching Northwestern on the fourth Saturday of the season, defeated the Wildcats, 28 to 7. A week later Northwestern, beginning to show the improvement that has made it one of the league's toughest members, forced the men from the north to hustle a 21 to 13 decision.

Thumping Victory
Last year Ohio State had the first crack at a feeble Wolverine eleven and satisfied a well aged yearning for a thumping victory by a 34 to 0 score. Minnesota's turn came on the last day of the season, and for two periods, it looked as though any sort of a victory over the Wolverines would have to do. However, Bernie Bierman's bone-crushers worked up a full head of steam in the last half to match exactly Ohio's total.

So the Buckeyes, not to be outdone by Minnesota, probably will show the Wolverines no mercy Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Yesterday was a light day in all camps except Michigan, Indiana and Chicago. The Wolverines immediately started preparing a defense against Ohio State formations. Indiana went to work on an aerial game to be used against Purdue, while the Maroons were given a vigorous session on fundamentals, particularly blocking.

Johnny Has a Right To Cry Blues About School Teacher

Survey Made In St. Louis Shows That Consistent Standard of Grading Is Lacking

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—Johnny's excuse for low marks that "the teacher doesn't like me" may have a sounder basis than juvenile resentment, a survey of high school grading methods here indicated today.

Puzzled by the discrepancy between the satisfactory performance of many students on general achievement tests and their low marks in the classrooms, George R. Johnson, director of tests and measurements for the St. Louis school system, made a city-wide study of the problem.

To his surprise, Johnson found: Grading: Standards Vary
Tabulation of the grades disclosed "no consistent standard of grading."

Most teachers grade on "subjective standards"—their own opinion of the relative merit of the pupil's classwork—unbacked by comparative data.

Women and men teachers grade girls the same, but women teachers grade boys lower than do men.

More girls and more boys fail under women teachers than under men teachers.

Girls get better classroom grades than boys—but boys excel on general achievement tests.

More students "flunk" Latin and mathematics than any other subjects.

"This lack of balance in the distribution of grades seems wholly unjustified in the light of the results of the various standardized tests administered during the survey," Johnson declared.

The educator said present systems of grading, varying with teachers' whims and temperaments as well as their different measures

Observe Book Week At Public Library

The Salem Public library is observing the 17th annual Book week designated this year as the "Reading for Fun" week. A display of new and old books for the children, teachers and parents has been arranged by the library staff. Book week ends Saturday.

Monday morning kindergarten pupils visited the children's room.

Afternoon for the grade teachers in the library rooms. Thursday afternoon and Saturday morning a marionette show is a special event scheduled for the children.

Every day of this week the staff of the library will be ready to show and give suggestions on books or children.

of mental performance, penalized many students of superior ability—and discriminated as a class against boys.

Johnson urged adoption of a national standard grading method, preferably based on objective achievement tests. He also recommended simplification of Latin and mathematics courses, their postponement until the student has matured more, or restriction of the classes to the brighter students.

"Great Lovers" of Films Are Usually 'Flops' Around Home

(By Associated Press)
HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 19.—Clark Gable says receiving feminine adulation as a romantic film hero has nothing to do with his "amiable separation" from his wife—but S. Reeland recalled today its "great lovers" usually were flops at home.

"As far as I'm concerned," Gable said, "it doesn't make any difference. All that aside, I've no doubt I have been hard to live with as Mrs. Gable said. I have been working hard and the studio people said the same thing—that I was getting difficult."

Looking back, Hollywood noted past film idols whose marriages failed after the acclaim of feminine fans.

Rudolph Valentino, yesterday's No. 1 screen lover, was parted from his first wife, Jean Acker, as he was rising to phenomenal popularity. His second marriage, to Natacha Rambova, ended while he was the feminine world's symbol of romance.

The Valentino of an earlier day, Fran is X. Bushman, caused a sensation by divorcing his first wife to marry his co-star, Beverly Bayne.

That marriage, too, failed. Another "great lover," John Gilbert, was divorced from his first wife before he became a star in "The Big Parade." His subsequent marriages—to Lestrade Joy, Ina Claire and Virginia Bruce—ended in divorces.

There is one notable exception—J. Warren Kerrigan, who fluttered feminine hearts in "The Covered Wagon." Kerrigan never married.

A niece, Mrs. Lillian Bailey Mounford, Bayside, N. Y., has been bequeathed 100 shares of stock and Mrs. Birdie B. Ling, Jamestown, N. Y., a cousin, has been bequeathed 12 shares of stock.

Twenty shares of stock has been left to Mrs. Edith Stone, Sharpsville, Pa., and a like bequest was made to Mrs. Margaret McGovern housekeeper.

Nab German Doctor On Secret Charges
LONDON, Nov. 19.—Dr. Hermann Gortz, a German, was arrested at Harwich, authorities announced today, charged under the official secrets act.

Gortz was remanded, the official said, and will appear in the courts in the normal way.

The official secrets act is applied in cases where a leakage of secret information is suspected.

The Daily Sketch called the arrest a sensational development arising from reports circulating for some time in a number of naval ports and air stations in south and west England.

This newspaper said it was alleged Dr. Gortz was in possession of documents contrary to the secrets act.

SEES NO BOOST IN COAL PRICES

C. F. Hosford, Jr., Says Users Need Not Fear Excessive Prices As Result of Control Law

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Coal users were promised today by C. F. Hosford, Jr., chairman of the bituminous coal commission, that they have no reason to fear excessive prices as a result of the Guilefey control law.

He said in a formal statement that the commission will make every effort to end the practice of "selling slack sizes of coal at prices far below the actual cost of production."

But no "fair-minded" customer can expect to buy coal at prices causing heavy loss to the producer, he contended, adding that the Guilefey act contains far-reaching consumer safeguards.

"While it is not anticipated that the establishment of maximum prices will be necessary the powers of the commission in this respect are specific," the statement said.
